The mentoring sessions are a confidential space for business owners to discuss their business goals and plans. - potential for reputational risk to the state
- risk profile, financial viability and management capacity of the business over the duration of the proposed activity
- whether the business owner has failed to meet key contractual obligations in the delivery performance of grants previously contracted with the Victorian Government.

Outcomes from such assessments may be considered in any decision to enrol a program participant.

The department may, at any time, remove an expression of interest from the enrolment process, or terminate the business mentoring, if in the department's opinion, association with the business or the business owner may bring the department, a minister or the State of Victoria into disrepute.
